

Creative Cords for Jewellery Workshop - Falmouth Adult Education Centre

Course Description

In this taster workshop, learn the Japanese art of decorative cords called Kumihimo – meaning 'Gathering of threads'. Learn how to create Japanese braided cords for jewellery and home décor using the portable foam kumihimo disk. Learn tips and tricks, colour placement and adding beads to the braid. You'll also learn how to finish the ends ready to add cone ends and clasps to create a bracelet and necklace.

Course content and outcomes

- Recognise progression from novice to beginner by placement of cords on disk and starting a standard round 8 braid
- Demonstrate knowledge of round 8 braid using clean start and finishing end of braid ready for jewellery by end of workshop.
- Perform colour placement to create patterns on the braid - i.e. stripes, dots etc
- Using functional skills (Maths) to calculate the correct length of cord needed to braid with.
- Experiment with different types of cord and beads for different looks of the braid.

Before joining this course you will need...

No additional qualifications are required, although if you have done previous jewellery making, beading or sewing this may be beneficial but is not essential.

How will I learn?

This is a 'learning by doing' class. The tutor will demonstrate throughout the day but most skills will be learnt through you practising. The workshop is fun, stress-free and allows you to learn at your own pace.

Assessment methods

Assessment will be on-going throughout the course, with practical activities that will help you and your tutor to recognise your progress.

Equipment and additional costs

The course fee includes use of the foam disk, cords some beads, jewellery findings and other basics to complete cord and form into jewellery. Coloured cord will be ordered before the workshop, so if possible can you please state two or three colour choices when booking your course. If you have your own beads with larger holes, jewellery making pliers or short sewing needles etc this would be beneficial but not essential. Handout instructions will also be available. You may want to bring pen, paper and small pointy scissors along too.

What next?

Following this course you may like to continue with the Introduction to Creative Cord course starting 22nd February 2017, or to develop your skills further and explore other media for jewellery making, why not try the Introduction to beaded jewellery making course starting 26th April 2017. Please ask your tutor or local centre admin for more information.

Support for my learning

What if I can't afford some, or any, of the costs of this course?

We understand that for some learners, the only way they will be able to take part in Adult Education is if they receive financial help and support, for example a contribution towards the costs of tuition, exam fees, travel, books or childcare. The Education and Skills Funding Agency (ESFA) and the funding agency for Advanced Learning Loans have allocated some money to help us provide this support. Please contact your local centre for information and advice about eligibility and how to apply.

What if I have specific requirements which might affect how I access this course?

Cornwall Adult Education is committed to providing the best possible learning opportunities for all our learners and we want all learners to achieve their full potential and to enjoy their learning. When you enrol, please let us know if you have any specific requirements, including a physical disability or learning difficulty. You can note this on your enrolment form or contact your local centre directly. This information will only be used to support you in your learning.

Information, advice and guidance:

We can offer help and support, or put you in contact with advisers who can help you:

- Decide which is the best course for you
- Find out about other courses you can move on to
- Explore possible financial support options
- Benefit from additional learning support
- Look at employment opportunities

Please ask your tutor about this, enquire at your local centre or e-mail adulthoodeducation.feedback@cornwall.gov.uk for further information.

